ALBANY, N. Y., November 22.-Official figires of the general expenditures of the democratic and republican parties and the Independence League in the recent state campaign show the immense expense of the Expenditures of funds raised by local committees, with the exception of the New York and Kings county committees, are not given, as they have not all been filed with the secretary of state. Even when they are filed it will be a matter of great difficulty to make accurate computations, as committees spending less than $200 are not required to file reports. It is estimated that more than $3,000,000 was expended in this state in connection with the election.

The republican state committee had the largest expenditures of any state organizalargest expenditures of any state organization, and the largest sum contributed by any one person was given by William R. Hearst, whose election expenses were $256,-370.22. Several of the candidates on the socialist, socialist-labor and prohibition tickets spent nothing.

The smallest expenditure reported was by John C. Chase, socialist candidate for governor, who certified that he spent only 2 cents, this being for a postage stamp to mail his letter of acceptance of the nomination. The independent judiciary nominators of the first judicial district, who nominated an independent judiciary ticket, had exceedingly heavy expenditures, aggregating $107,987.

Largest Individual Account. The expense account of Francis H. Gates, who ran for senator as an independent andidate in the Oswego-Madison district with democratic, prohibition and Independence League indorsements, was the largest of any individual candidate for a subordinate office. He spent more than $31,000, and defeated Thomas Lewis, repub-lican, in a strong republican district. Under the law the period for filing state-ments expired today, but many of the local political committees have not yet com-plied with the statute.

The republican state committee received $333,923 in contributions. This includes $20,000 borrowed from Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff. Its expenditures aggregated $332,011, of which $312,246 covers bills paid, $47,065 bills payable rendered and $2,700 bills payable estimated.

To Aid Vessels in Distress. The United States revenue cutter Apache reported at Baltimore undergoing an verhauling in preparation for her annual winter cruising service on Chesapeake bay. For the past three years, under the peronal orders of the President, the revenue cutters on both coasts and the gulf have. during the winter months, been employed in constant cruising on their stations on the lookout for vessels that may be in distress in consequence of the winter gales or from other causes, and the government craft have been the means of saving many lives and a number of valuable ships from destruction by reaching the scene of the marine disaster in time to keep the vessel from going down or on the shore. These winter cruising orders have not yet been issued, but they are looked for shortly after the arrival home of the President from his trip to Panama. Under these orders the revenue cutters are only allowed to go into port for coal and supplies, and must return to cruising duty as soon as possible. The service generally begins about December 1 and continues until March 1 the lookout for vessels that may be in dis-

THAW TRIAL PUT OFF

WILL COME UP NEXT JANUARY IN SUPREME COURT.

A dispatch from New York says: Although a week from next Monday had been set for the beginning of the trial of Harry K. Thaw, accused of the murder of Mr. Stanford White, he will not be called to face his ordeal then. Indeed, the chances are he will not be tried until January, or perhaps the next month. And when he is brought to the bar it will not be in general sessions court, as was the first intention of District Attorney Jerome, but in the criminal branch of the supreme court. This change of programme came as the result of opposition of Clifford W. Hartridge of counsel for Thaw to the district attorney's application for a special panel of 150 talesmen from which to select the jury. He argued that such a panel would entail much expense on the county, as he could not go on with the trial on December 3, for the reason that he had learned that many of the witnesses for the defense would not go the come to this city to testify and it not come to this city to testify, and it would be necessary to get their testimony by deposition.

Judge O'Sullivan, who heard the argument in general sessions court, said he would take the application under advisement. After consultation with Assistant District Attorney Garvan, Mr. Jerome went before Judge O'Sullivan and withdrew the application for a special panel. His next step was to appear before Judge Green-baum in the criminal branch of the supreme court and have the trial transferred to that tribunal from general sessions court, thus nullifying the date fixed for the trial in the latter court.

May Come Before Goff.

In changing the tribunal, however, there is no understanding that Mr. Goff will not be the judge who will preside. He will retire as recorder and from general sessions court the first of the year, when he takes his place on the supreme court bench. In the assignation of the judges of the supreme court to sit in the criminal branch it may be that Judge Goff will be assigned to that tribunal in either January or Febru-

to that tribunal in either January or February, and there is no doubt this would be done should Mr. Jerome make a request to this effect. Then, with Judge Goff ready to hear criminal actions, the district attorney could place the Thaw trial on his calendar of his own volition if the present determination is not subjected to change.

Recorder Goff made a move in the Thaw case yesterday. After Judge Blanchard of the supreme court had granted to Mr. Hartridge a temporary writ of prohibition, ordering the district attorney, the grand jury and general sessions court to proceed no further in investigating the death of Mr. Stanford White, Judge MacLean was asked to make the writ permanent. Referred to the Recorder.

awyers had made a similar motion. The district attorney held that although he obeyed the temporary writ there was nothing before the recorder, and the recorder is sessions. The only paper before me is the order containing that expression. No motion or application has been made to this court nor have any affidavits been submitted for the court of the court nor have any affidavits been submitted for the court nor have any affidavits been submitted for any purpose. There has been a very interesting argument and submission of instructive briefs by counsel, but in the absence of any foundation for judicial action the discussion becomes purely academic. A rule cannot be made, because there is nothing to rule mon."

TOWN INCORPORATION. Subject Discussed by Alexandria Improvement Society. Town incorporation is being vigorously discussed by citizens of Alexandria county, and it is probable one or more bills for creating municipalities in the county will be presented to the next legislature at Richmond. The subject was discussed at some length in the meeting of the Town Improvecan take. ment Society which met last night at the residence of Charles E. Lewis of the Post Office Department, and which reorganized Among the old members present were C. T. Baker, W. E. Stewart, J. H. Tayman, I. N. Rich and William McShea. Mr. Greathouse was named as secretary.

Incorporation was introduced for discussion by Mr. Tayman and opinions generally were decidedly favorable to the project. The question whether the whole county or only Arlington district should be included was talked over and sentiment was rather in favor of taking in only the highland por-tion of Arlington and the Rock Hill part of Washington district. The whole matter, however, was left open for further discussion at the next meeting. The secretary was directed to notify as many owners and residents as possible of the work in hand.
Sidewalks and lights were taken up for consideration with prospect of immediate action. A committee, consisting of Messrs. McShea, Stewart and Greathouse, was named to communicate with the county supervisors and the owners of the subdivisions concerned in the proposed improvements and secure all aid practicable. Another committee, consisting of G. McRicker and Messrs. McShea and Rich, was appointed to investigate the question of kind and cost of material best for axing such walks ed to investigate the question of kind and cost of material best for laying such walks as the society may feel able to put down at this time. The first sidewalk proposed is to cross the Colonial Heights property along some street already laid out to a station on the Old Dominion railroad. It was pointed out that a broad satisfactory walk has already been made by the Colonial Heights syndicate from the freight house station on the Old Dominion at the foot of Lambden terrace south to Corcoran street and that this walk will be continued up Corcoran street westward to some convenient coran street westward to some convenient point on the hill where the owners are soon to begin the erection of ten houses for lot owners. For this reason it was suggested that the Lambden terrace station should be made the objective point for the proposed walk from Fort Myer Heights and Whar-He referred the whole matter to the reof the same opinion. He handed down his decision yesterday, saying:

"According to the order of the supreme court Mr. Justice MacLean expressed the opinion that the application should be made in the first instance to the court of general.

The question of street lights was then briefly discussed, and the meeting adjourned to meet at Mr. Lewis' Wednesday evening, November 28.

Abundant Crocodile Skins Available. Consul General W. H. Michael states that Calcutta trade journal calls attention to the demand for crocodile skins in America, and from time to time has urged the natives living contiguous to crocodile haunts to engage extensively in the business of killing this creature for his skin, guaranteeing that they will be able to sell to American buyers at remunerative prices all the skins they easily accessible, and there are Indians in plenty to hunt them and take their skins. Consequently there is no reason why a big trade in crocodile skins should not be built up between the United States and India. Persons and companies interested should Miss Maria E. on the other hand it was stated that very many would be much better accommodated by a walk to Mackey, the first station beyond the railroad bridge over the county road, where the Old Dominion recently built a waiting room. The Colonial Heights owners have cut their street through to this place and comparatively little work will be necessary to make a walk to it and build across the run a bridge sufficient for foot passengers. The opinion seemed to prevail that this would be the first work to be done by the society.
